FILE No. 225 OF 1891

Nl. N. 4. File 555 1889

A sum of Rs 2500/- was sanctioned in April 1890 for a Cow shed for the Ct Jn Station with a view to securing a wholesome supply of milk & butter

2 The Municipality tried then to obtain a contribution from the military authorities but they objected & the Resident directed that the Municipality meet the charge entirely.

3 The selection of a site for the shed appears to have occupied the time since. The military wanted the shed near their barracks & would give the land free on condition that the buildings to be removed when required for military purposes without any claim for compensation. The Municipality has accepted these conditions.

Para 11 of Lt. Colquhoun's report dt. 5th Dec. 2

4 The estimate now submitted by the ~~Resident~~ President with his letter No. 199 dated the 2nd June 1891 amounts to Rs 4260 or Rs 1760 more than the amount originally sanctioned. The reason for the increase is due to certain defects in the Std estimate & additional improvements now proposed. Paras: 12 to 14 of Sub. Dr's Memo explain these.

5 Provision has been made in the budget for 1891-92 for this expenditure. may be sanctioned? Submitted for orders.

10 From. Letter No. 566 dated 29th September 1891 & enclosure, it will be seen that with reference to the Residents' remarks in Sl. No. 3 as regards the provision of a dairy &c in connection with the Cow shed, the Municipal Commissioners have resolved that a large sum (Rs 4260) having been voted for the erection of the shed, the provision of dairies & other accessories should be left to be carried out by private enterprise

11 The President has not reported whether Rev. Mr. Christian & Mrs Hunter were invited to offer suggestions as regards the shed, as desired in Sl. No. 3.

12 Apparently the Municipality does not wish to trouble itself more in this matter. The Sanitary board have been asked in Sl. No. 4 if they have any suggestions to make regarding the shed, & their reply may be awaited.

17 The model Cow shed built by the Municipality at a cost of Rs 4260 is situated on military ground obtained direct from the military authorities by the Municipality on the ground that the building so shewed be removed when the land is required for military purposes. (Vide para 3 of note).

18 It appears from the Presidents' letter No 1986 of the 13th Feb: 1894 that additional land (2 acres 1653 sq yards) is now needed for being attached to the Cow shed, & the Resident's sanction is asked for for its acquisition from the Military authorities. S.No 8

19 It is not known why such sanction of the Resident is now thought necessary the land originally granted for the Cow shed was obtained without such sanction & interference of this office. If an enquiry on this point he considered necessary, the President may be informed that the Resident has no objection to the Municipality obtaining the additional land from the Military authorities - submitted for favourable orders.

The Resident's letter may be answered as suggested above; the reference to his Office was not really necessary, for the Mily. authorities decline to contribute towards the cost of the two Wells, on the ground that they had given the site free of cost, so it is not likely that they will hesitate to give the extra ground now required.

In September 1891, it was proposed by the Municipality that arrangements should be made for draining etc in connection with the Cow Shed erected at a Cost of £ 4,260, but the Commissioners resolved to leave the proposed improvements to be carried out by private enterprise. Some correspondence has apparently taken place between the Municipality & the Military authorities since, & an estimate amounting to £ 577 5/- was sub- by the former to the latter for the construction of an additional dairy room & sanction of the Military Authorities was requested for the execution of the work. The General Officer endorsed on this letter recommending compliance & directing that the Cost should be defrayed by the Municipality. To

THE ASSISTANT TO THE RESIDENT IN MYSORE,

SIR,

In returning enclosures which accompanied your letter No. 3921—2305, dated 18th November 1889, on the subject of a site for erecting a contagious disease hospital for the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, I have the honor to forward herewith report No. 502, dated the 28th idem by the Sanitary Board.

2. Letter No. 523—669, dated 21st November 1889, from the Municipal President to the District Staff Officer.

No. 502

OFFICE OF SANITARY BOARD.

Bangalore, 28th November 1889.

The Board met at 7-30 A. M. this day for the consideration of the following subjects:

1. The selection of a suitable site for the erection of a contagious disease hospital for the Civil and Military Station, in accordance with request of the Resident in Mysore as conveyed in letter No. 3921-2305, dated Bangalore, 18th November 1889, from the Assistant Resident.

The Board are of opinion that a suitable site for the above purpose is to be found in the vicinity of the Military contagious disease camp at Kulpalli, and would accordingly recommend that a spot adjacent thereto, sufficient for the erection of suitable buildings thereon, be acquired in consultation with the Municipal President at an early date.

2. The undermentioned papers on the subject of securing an wholesome supply of milk and butter to the residents of the Station were laid before the Board by the Deputy Surgeon General.

(a) Circular memorandum No. 8, dated, Simla, 12th April 1889, from the Quarter-Master General in India, and circular No. 2501 B., dated Ootacamund, 2nd September 1889, from the Quarter-Master General, Madras, to the General officer, commanding Bangalore District.

(b) Letter No. 523—669, dated 21st November 1889, from the President, Municipal Commission, to the District Staff Officer, Bangalore.

The Board, on carefully perusing the above and taking into consideration the incalculable benefit which would accrue to the health of the community by the adoption of such measures as therein referred to, unanimously approve of Mr. J. W. Hayes Senior's proposal to secure a pure supply of milk and butter, and are of opinion that it fully meets the requirements of the case and would therefore strongly recommend that early effect be given to the same.

No. 462, dated Bangalore, 8th November 1889.

From—The Residency Surgeon, Bangalore.

To—The Assistant to the Resident in Mysore, Bangalore.

With reference to the enclosed copies of *correspondence on the subject of the selection of a site for the contagious disease hospital, I have the honor to request that, under the circumstances represented by the Municipal President, you will be so good as to obtain the Resident's sanction to the bandy stand in Cockburn road being utilized for the purpose referred to. As matters now stand, should any epidemic occur, there is no place provided for the reception of cases of an infectious nature. The accommodation afforded by the Bowring Civil Hospital is only sufficient and suitable for ordinary diseases, and persons suffering from either cholera or small-pox should not, even were there space available, on purely sanitary and medical grounds, be admitted thereto.

*Letter No. 313, dated 5th August 1889, to the President.
Do No. 437, dated 29th October to the President.
Do No. 474, enclosure 1, dated 31st October from the President Municipal Commission.

No. 313, dated Bangalore, 5th August 1889.

From—The Residency Surgeon, Bangalore.

To—The President, Municipal Commission, Civil and Military Station, Bangalore.

In advertance to my letter No. 252, dated the 25th June 1889, recommending the demolition, for the reasons given therein, of the detached building within the Bowring Civil Hospital enclosure, which was formerly used partly, as a dispensary for out-door sick, and partly for cases of cholera and small-pox, I have the honor to request that you will be so good as to lay the above, together with this letter, before the next meeting of the municipality for consideration and early action. I feel that I cannot place too great stress on the extreme importance which exists for providing, in a suitable place, fit and proper accommodation, for the reception of patients suffering from contagious and infectious diseases, and who have no home or cannot properly be treated at home, and may, with advantage to themselves, be so removed; the buildings thus provided should be supplied with all appliances, medicines, furniture and other things necessary for an emergency, together with a hospital assistant and special staff of nurses and servants, as may be required to attend to the same.

2. The system which at present exists of admitting such cases as the above to the civil hospital is unquestionably one of danger to the ordinary sick of that institution, while the removal, from infected parts of the town, of persons suffering from communicable diseases, to a crowded, and at the time, non-infected locality, is, needless to say, a highly insanitary procedure.

3. It is a noticeable feature that both cholera and small-pox have prevailed more or less, in an epidemic form throughout the year, thereby showing that the origin and diffusion of the former is, in a great measure, due to faulty drainage and water-supply, whereby numberless filthy facilities are let to exist for the fouling of earth, air and water. The local conditions of safety are therefore, above all others, (1) that by appropriate means, all the excremental produce of the population shall be so promptly and so thoroughly removed that the inhabited place, in its air and soil, shall be absolutely without fæcal impurities, and that the water supply of the population shall be derived from such sources and conveyed in such channels, that its contamination by excrement is impossible. The good results to be gained even by rough approximation to such a sanitary standard as the above, cannot be held in too high estimation or receive too great attention.

4. As regards the question of small-pox, as it is by vaccination that its spread can most effectually be prevented, much, if not all, will depend on the thoroughness with which the provisions of the compulsory act are enforced. As however its introduction has been so recent, it is only reasonable to expect that occasional out-breaks of small-pox, of decreasing severity, will occur for some time to come; but there can be no doubt that under the influence of efficient vaccination the disease will be finally eradicated from the Station.

No. 437, dated Bangalore 29th October 1889.

From—The Residency Surgeon, Bangalore.

To—The President, Municipal Commission, Civil and Military Station, Bangalore.

In returning docket No. 1394 dated the 24th instant, from the senior Surgeon to the Mysore Government, with your endorsement, regarding the prevalence of cholera at Tripati and Chirkanur, I have the honor to inform you that second class hospital assistant M. Takur Singh has been directed to be present at the cantonment Railway Station on the arrival of trains from the above places, with instructions for the disposal of such passengers as may be suffering from any communicable disease. As this hospital assistant's legitimate duties in the vaccination department are such as to fully occupy his time, the additional duty now imposed upon him cannot be carried out without detriment thereto, I would therefore urge the continuance of the advertisement calling for the services of a third class hospital assistant for special duty in the Station.

2. In this connection I would invite attention to this office No. 313, dated 5th August 1889, suggesting the need for establishing a contagious hospital which would also serve as a place for observation in all suspicious cases amongst persons returning from places where cholera prevailed. The accommodation afforded by the Bowring Hospital is only sufficient and suitable for ordinary cases of disease, of a non-infectious nature, and I have merely to repeat that the admission thereto of persons suffering from communicable diseases is not only frought with danger to the other patients, but is a practice which in the interests of the general public ought to be at once discontinued.

No 474, dated Bangalore, 31st October 1889.

From—The President, Municipal Commission, Bangalore.
To—The Residency Surgeon in Mysore, Bangalore.

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 437 dated 29th October 1889, recommending the immediate provision of an infectious disease hospital for the reception and treatment of cholera and small-pox patients, and in reply to inform you that the Board, having taken objection to the present bandy stand being utilized for the purpose as proposed by me in consultation with you and the Deputy Surgeon General, a circular memorandum (No. 1917 dated 31st August 1889, copy attached) was sent round to Commissioners requesting them to name any other site they may consider suitable for the infectious disease hospital, but to no effect, as with one exception, Mr. B. Krishna Singh, who states that no site is available in his division, no answer has been received from the other Commissioners.

2. I am still of opinion, that no better site, than the present bandy stand is available for the purpose, and as the Commissioners have not been able to name any other site, I would suggest your addressing the Resident on the subject of converting the bandy stand into an infectious disease hospital.

From—President, Municipal Commission, Civil and Military Station, Bangalore.
To—Commissioners of Divisions.

As a site for the erection of a contageous and infectious disease hospital has been recommended by the Deputy Surgeon General, and the Residency Surgeon to be selected at once, has the honor to request that they will be so good as to submit a list showing any sites in their respective divisions that they may consider suitable for the purpose, without delay, to admit of its being circulated to the Deputy Surgeon General and the Residency Surgeon for inspection and opinion.

Cantonments.
Regulations.

From—Colonel, W. F. Gataore, Officiating Quarter Master General.
To—General Officers, Commanding Districts.

Having in view the prevalence in cantonments of typhoid fever, and other ailments, which are attributed to the use of bad milk, butter &c., the officiating Quarter Master General is directed to impress upon officers commanding cantonments the importance of arranging for the careful supervision of all milch cattle kept within cantonment limits, as well as of all milk brought into cantonments for sale ; this supervision should be by Europeans wherever practicable. The making of butter, whether carried out within or without cantonment limits, should also receive attention.

2. It is understood that the cows from which the milk used by patients in hospital is obtained are milked at the hospital, in accordance with paragraph 980. Army Regulations, India, Volume VI, but it rests with the cantonment authorities, acting under rule 14 A, Chapter III, Cantonment Regulations, to see that these cows, as well as all other animals in cantonments, the flesh or milk of which is used for food, are cleanly fed.

3. Endeavours should be made to improve the sanitary state of the cow-houses and their surroundings.

4. Efforts in a similar direction should also be made with respect to the milch cattle which are kept outside cantonment limits, the milk and butter obtained from which are vended to the troops or cantonment residents. It must not be lost sight of that power is vested in the hands of the officer commanding to prevent the sale of the milk &c. under rule 30 Chapter III, Cantonment Regulations, but, if this course is found necessary, proper arrangements should first be made for keeping within cantonments a larger number of milch cattle so as to provide for the wants of the troops and inhabitants.

CIRCULAR.

No. 2501 B. dated Quarter Master General's office, Ootacamund, 2nd September 1889.

From—The Quarter Master General.
To—The General Officer, Commanding Bangalore District.

In continuation of circular No. 8, dated, Simla, the 12th April 1889, from the Quarter-Master General in India, forwarded under this office No. *1282 B. dated 8th May 1889, it must be understood that, in dealing with the supply of pure milk and butter in cantonments, it is not considered expedient or possible to carry out the desired improvements by the establishment of dairy farms worked by cantonment or military agency, or to interfere with private enterprise.

*Copy enclosed.

2. To do so would necessitate a large outlay, which it is not possible to authorise, and a responsibility which it is undesirable to assume; this being the case, it remains to endeavour, by close supervision, to ensure the milch cows maintained by cow-keepers, being cleanly fed and properly stabled, the utensils in which the milk is drawn and carried being of a material and shape to be easily cleaned, and to prevent the adulteration of the milk.

3. To carry out the above, it appears possible, in every cantonment within which cows are maintained, to appoint an experienced soldier on a small staff salary, whose business it would be to superintend the feeding and milking of the cows, and to inspect the stables and the utensils in which the milk and butter are kept.

4. No milk seller should be allowed to sell milk or butter in cantonments without a license, the grant of which might be made conditional on supervision being permitted at all times to the Inspector.

5. To encourage the maintenance in cantonments of a sufficient number of cows, sites in one locality might be granted free of rent on yearly tenure to such cow-keepers as are willing to build cow-houses thereon, and to abide by the necessary conditions as to removal or disposal of such buildings under cantonment regulations in the event of the builder ceasing to supply the residents in cantonments with milk and butter; the areas granted should not exceed what is necessary to stable the cows and to house a limited number of attendants, and should not include any grazing land free; but in considering the yearly tenders for grazing, those cow-keepers who maintain cows in cantonments should have the preference.

6. It must be clearly understood that the above suggestions are as much in the interests of the civilian element as of the military in cantonments.

7. The Commander-in-Chief looks upon this subject as one of the most important matters with which the military authorities in cantonments have to deal, as so intimately affecting the health of the troops; and His Excellency hopes that General officers will consider how best they can carry out the above suggestions.

From—The President, Municipal Commission, Civil and Military Station, Bangalore.
To—The District Staff Officer Bangalore Division.

With reference to your Demi-official letter dated 10th September 1889, forwarding copies of orders of Government with reference to the measures to be adopted for securing an wholesome supply of milk and butter to the residents of the Station, I have the honor to forward for information an extract from the proceedings of the Municipal Commissioners for the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, dated 26th October 1889 on the subject.

Abstract of proceedings of the Municipal Commissioners for the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, dated 26th October 1889.

6. Deferred proposition relating to the proposed Bye-law to ensure a wholesome supply of milk and butter to the residents of the Station, together with a letter from the District Superintendent of Police on the subject.

Proposed by Mr. J. W. Hayes.

That in order to secure a pure supply of milk and butter, the municipality after ascertaining the number of milch cows now existing in the different parts of the Civil and Military Station, viz, such as Shoolay, Akkithimmanahalli, Ulsur, General Bazaar &c, and after restricting the number of cows of such a locality, shall construct properly planned stalls in each of these places, where the cows should be kept under proper supervision with respect to cleanliness, fodder, and purity of the milk and butter produced, a small charge by way of rent to be made for each stall, and licenses to be granted to salesmen and women with necessary conditions entered therein; on violation, if any, of which conditions, the license to be withdrawn. The military authorities to be applied to to defray a moiety of such expenses as will be incurred in the construction of the stalls, and up-keep of the establishment.

Seconded by Mr. P. L. Bride.

Proposed by the President, that Mr. Campbell's proposition at the last meeting held on the 28th ultimo, be first passed.

Carried nem. con.

Proposed by Mr. Hewetson, that the Bangalore municipal regulations of 1883 be amended as follows:—

Definition of the word market:—

"Market" means any place ordinarily used for the sale of meat, fish, fruits, vegetables or other perishable articles of food for human consumption.

SECTION 179. No place within the limits of the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore shall be used as a slaughter house, or for the slaughtering of any animal intended for food, or for selling or storing for sale the flesh thereof, or as a market for the sale of meat, dead poultry fish or vegetable or fruit or other perishable articles of food for human consumption, unless a license in writing for the use thereof as such has been obtained from the President, nor shall any person import or sell any such articles in any part of the Civil and Military Station unless he has obtained a license in writing from the President who is hereby empowered, at his discretion, from time to time, to grant and withdraw or suspend or revoke such license and whoever, without such license or after notice of its withdrawal, suspension, or revocation, uses as a slaughter house, or for the slaughtering of any animal intended for food, or for selling or storing for sale the flesh thereof, or as a market for the sale of meat, dead poultry, fish or vegetables or fruit or other perishable articles of food for human consumption, any place within the limits of the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, or imports or sells any such articles in any part of the Civil and Military Station, shall be liable, on conviction, to a penalty not exceeding two hundred rupees, and to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees for every day after the conviction for such offence during which the said offence is continued.

SECTION 183. Sir,

In returning the detailed proceedings & the progress report forwarded with your letter No. 438 dated the 17th August 1891, I am directed to communicate the following remarks pages 44-46 of the proceedings for 21 July 1891.

2. The erection of a Cow shed, with attendant arrangements for dairy and provision in some way for both for the Cow men must necessarily fail to obtain the full benefits of the Object in view.

3. It seems probable that in a large station like Bangalore there must be several people (for instance Revd Mr Christian and Mrs Hannay) who would be prepared to rent the building and it would be well to let such persons see the plans and offer suggestions. Under such conditions it might be possible to have three instead of one milk Establishments, and these need not be so expensive as that designed by the Sp: Engineer.

4. The Resident considers that such milk establishments would be of the greatest importance. He would like to see at least four of them working in the Cantonments, and judging from a perusal of a report on the separating system by Mr: Osborne, dairies carried out under some similar conditions would be a financial success.

Sir,

I have the honour to report that the land measuring 1 acre, 160 S. yds. attached to the Model Cowhouse in the Victoria Park, is found to be insufficient, Even for the exercise of the Cattle, and an additional area of 2 acres 1653 Sq: yards, bounded by existing fences and shown, Colored brown, in the accompanying plan is required.

The Land is not now utilized for any purpose, and I beg to recommend that application be made to the Military department, to transfer it to the Municipality on the same conditions as the land (colored red on plan) has been transferred.

As the establishment of the Cow house has been undertaken by the Municipality at the desire and in the interests of the Military Department, there will not, I think, be any objection to the additional land being transferred as required.
